The Hungry Fed and the Naked Cloth Baby Outcasts of the Poor Cared For by the Wives and Mothers of the Rich-A Londoner in Gotham-Old, Helpless and Starving-A Fraudulent "Charity Ball" Seventeen hundred and fifty persons on Monday came to St. John's Guild for food; twelve hundred of them brought relief tickets from visitors, entitling them to immediate supplies of provisions and groceries. The others had to be visited. Yes terday a formidable array of those equally poor and unprovided for appeared, and during the long day were being constantly furnished with clothing and often with orders for medical attendance and medicines. They presented, as a whole, the same sad picture that every day brings into life at St. John's chapel. They repeated the same sad stories of destitution, of misery, of sickness and death. They were from nearly every land and spoke many tongues; but the burden of all, no matter what the accent happened to be or the language in which their suffering found voice, the gates where many thousands of weary feet had entered before them, and they bore on their arms light baskets and in their bosoms heavy hearts. They went back to the desolate places they name me with light hearts and neavy burdens, that, unpacked, brought into the darkness of their poor rooms light and life and hope.

In Grand street yesterday a passer by found two little beings crying desperately in an open doorway. He questioned them and they told their story. A bad woman enticed their mother their story. A bad woman enticed their mother to drink, and when these two became inebrated they attacked each other and gave the little ones many old blows in the melice. This chance passer by was a volunteer visitor of St. John's Guild. He entered the house and found the women. They were locked in each other's embrace and stringgling in a room strewed with old gunny bags, straw and ashes, and furnished with a dilapidated table and two chairs. The visitor was shown the room where the little ones slept; it was a garret, empty, save a little pile of loose straw in a corner. He called a pollecman, and they brought the little eings to St. John's Guild, where they were fed, washed and clothed. The little girl had only a bandage above the waist, which was ner only covering. The first water from which they emerged was black as ink, and the clothes they had worn were a mere bundle of rags. Still the covering. The first water from which they emerged was black as ink, and the clothes they had worn were a mere bundle of rags. Stall the boy was a very fine looking little fellow, who gave his name as Hampton Woods: and his sister, a fragile little thing, with curly, flaxen hair, was more than pretty. Their father was dead.

A LONDONER IN NEW YORK.

Mrs. Rachel Potschwits, a Londoner, married to a German, and the mother of seven children, though still very young, has been supporting her family in a rude way by working as a tailoress. She had purchased a Singer sewing machine, No. 2 (tailors') of one Hahn, in avenue B, between Third and Fourth streets, and had paid him $57 of the purchase money, she owed $20 more to complete her payment, On the occasion of her visit to St. John's Guild, a week ago yesterday, her room was visited and the the occasion of her visit to St. John's Guild, a week ago yesterday, her room was visited and the machine was taken away by Hahn's men. When she returned home she found the only means of support she possessed gone. Her husband, a painter by trade, but without work for five months and at the present time sick, had learned to assist her in sewing on the machine, and he could only tell her it was gone and with it prospects of the payment of rent and the purchase of bread.

OLD, HELPLESS AND STARVING.

At No. 480 Third avenue, in a Sub-cellar, lives a woman, named McLaugniin, who is seventy-eight years of age, and who has a brother sixty-six years old, rheumatic, and lying on a paliet with a boy of nineteen. There are no windows in the cellar, and the only light, even at noonday, is shed by a candle. They were without food, finel or bed clothing.

A CASE PROM THE DEPARTMENT OF CHARTIES.
Among the numerous cases sent to St. John's Guild by Superintendent Kellogg, of the Department of Public Charties and Correction, is that of a poor, young married woman named Margaret Cleary, who lives at No. 741 Tenth avenue, third floor, in room No. 9. Mrs. Cleary is a very good looking woman, and very neat and sober. She has a batoy three weeks old and a husband much older than herself but just as helpiess as the infant. She is recommended by Dr. Hastings as a wet nurse, as she cannot leave the house to work out.

A FRAUDLING "CHARTY BALL"

IS one of the schemes hit upon by some impecunious genius to raise the wind at the present moment. Tickets bearing the following inscription are being circulated, and a commission of fifty cents each is offered for their sale by those interested:—

Band Tender Their Services.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—
With the hearty approval of Colonel Porter and officers of the Twenty-second regiment, the regimental band, numbering sixty-five members, including Arbuckle, Leiebre, Letsch, Kegel and other soloists, take great pleasure in offering their services to take part in the "Grand Charity Musi-services to take part in the "Grand Charity Musical Performance" to be given at the Academy of Music on Saturday evening, March 28.

It is hoped that the suggestions of the Herald may be carried out in a union of the four famous opera companies, including the great prime donne, Nilsson, Lucca, Di Murska and Kellegg.

Such a combination, together with the popular Liederkranz Society and other volunteers, would make the "Charity Musical Festival" a memorable event; and it is safe to predict that the substantial result would be greater than has ever been realized from a single periormance in this city before.

Trusting that all who are invited may take part, thus making it the great climax of all performances given during the season in the service of charity, and that it may be to all participants—pations and performers—like "bread cast upon pations and performers—like "breau cast upo-the waters," I remain, dear sir, very truly yours, P. S. GILMORE.

The officers of the association have taken special nains to interrogate each of the male applicants for daily charity as to their ability asd desire to obtain work, and have taken the names of each. The result of this has been that the association now offers to all who may desire laborers who are middle aged, strong and willing to work at the rate of $1.50 per day. Any person, either from city or country, desiring laborers, is hereby requested to call upon the committee, at their headquarters as above, at five o'clock in the alternoon, as we have application from about 200 for work at above price—some even at less. ask our fellow citizens not to relax their noble

CITY HALL NOTES.

The most complete dulness prevails in the various departments around the City Hall. With only a very lew exceptions the heads of the various bureaus are absent at Albany to look out for their interests. No wonder that the "grinding" committees have already begun their work in the mittees have already begun their work in the state Capitol, when so many "statesmen" have so many little hatchets to sharpen.

Mayor Havemeyer, quite refreshed after his patient review of the brilliant St. Patrick's pageant passing before him and the Common Council on Tuesday, and not a particle exhausted from the delivery of his speech to the Friendly Sons of the lirish patron saint, appeared at his office early yesterday morning. While he was out getting his chop, in company with the Comptroller, a loving French couple waited His Honor's return to be made man and wife. They were accommodated in a trice by being joined with due despatch, but the Mayor neglected to kiss the bride.

THE POLICE COMMISSIONERSHIP.

With the nomination of Mr. Tax Commissioner George H. Andrews, made by Mayor Havemeyer some two weeks ago, to fill the place of the late Henry Smith, it was thought that the controversy had come to an end. But such is not the case. The declination of Mr. Andrews, since no honor was to be reaped by him by a confirmation, and the deadlock in the Commission having been broken by the election of Mr. Hugh Gardner to the Presidency, leave the matter of a fifth Commissioner an open question. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen to-day the Mayor will no doubt send the correspondence with Mr. Andrews to them, merely for niormation, but he has expressed himself to tae effect that he will not send in any new nomination.
Mr. Havemeyer claims that he has compiled with the letter of the charter, which compels him to make a nomination within ten days of the occurrence of a vacancy. As the nominee declines to accept the honor thus offered him, he (the Mayor) is absolved from further obligations, and he now proposes to take his time to fill the vacancy. It is stated, however, that Mr. J. D. Townsend will be the coming man; but some of the Aldermen stated yesterday that it will only be time wasted to appoint the new Commissioner, as a bill has gone to the Legislature to abolish the present Commission and place the appointing power for the four Commissioners, of which the Police Board is to consist, in the hands of the Board of Aldermen. Thus the matter rests at present; but new developments
may occur at any moment. men to-day the Mayor will no doubt send the cor-

LIGHTING THE CITY.

Proposals from Gas Companies. The proposals for lighting the gas lamps in the parks and squares of the city for 1874 were opened esterday in the presence of the Park Commis ioners. Comptroller Green and a number of the bidders. Six bids had been made by five companies, as follows :-

New York Gas Light Company—Proposing to furnish the parks in the part of the city south or Grand street, from East to North River, at $33 each lamp, with sixteen-candle illuminating power.

Harlem Gas Light Company—The parks in the part of the city north of seventy-ninth street, at $3 25 per month. Metropolitan Gas Light Company—The parks in the part of the city between Seventy-ninth and inirty-fourth streets, at $31 each lamp, with sixteen-candle illuminating power. streets, at $31 each lamp, with sixteen-candle illuminating power.

New York Mutual Gas Light Company—The parks in the part of the city between Cooper Institute and Thirty-tourth street, for $29 50 each lamp, with eighteen to twenty candle power.

Manhattan Gas Company—The parks from Thirty-fourth street to Grand, at $35 each lamp, with sixteen to twenty candle illuminating power.

A proposal from the New York Mutual Gas Light Company for lighting the lamps on Tompkins square and in that section of the city generally, if certain questions relating to the ownership of the gas mains in the streets could be decided, was also submitted.

SUDDEN DEATH IN A SALOON.

An aged colored man, named John Henry Collins, dropped dead yesterday atternoon in a drink ing place kept by Patrick O'Brien, at Tuckahoe Vestchester county. The old negro had just imbibed a draught of "liquid lightning," when he fell to the floor a corpse. Deceased was about sixty years of age, and had never been known to yote any other than a democratic ticket. The Coroner was notified.

RIVAL JUDGES.

An Extraordinary Scene in Yorkville District Court—Judge McGuire Com-mits Judge Stemler for Contempt.

The McGuire-Stemler controversy for the Justice ship of the Seventh District Civil Court assumed ase yesterday which was a surprise to many, but to no one more than Judge Stemler himself.

After the decision rendered on Monday morning by Judge Vanbrunt, setting aside the verdict offure a new tria', the latter gentleman obtained an order from the Court without the knowledge of the other side, replacing him on the bench and warning any one else from interiering. Superintendent of Police Matsell also received an order to afford Justice McGuire all the necessary aid to protect him in the discharge of his duties as Justice of the said Court. Captain Gunner was instructed by the Superintendent to detail a portion of his command to obey the mandates of Judge McGuire and preserve the peace in case Judge Stemier's friends should see lit to interiere.

obey the mandates of Judge Stemler's friends should see it to interiere.

McGuire and his cierk got possession of the court and cierk's apartments on Monday night and retained them untily esterday morning, when they were reinforced by a section of the Fifty-ninth street police, under command of Captain Gunner himself. Judge McGuire took his seat on the bench at an early hour and began to transact the business of the Court. At nine o'clock Judge Stemier came in. Judge McGuire showed Judge Stemier his authority for being in possession, but Judge Stemier would not recognize it, and wisned to transact the business of the Court. A commitment was handed to Captain Gunner by Justice McGuire, consigning Stemler to be released till he paid a fine of $20 for contempt of Court. After leaving the Court in the custody of an officer Judge Stemler was discharged on his own recognizance.

BURNING OF THE CHINESE SUMMER

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD :-

Having read in your paper this morning an arti-cle referring to the late Emperor of the French and the burning of the Summer Palace at Pekin by the British Army, I beg you will allow me to make a few remarks thereon, as I had the honor of being one of the British expeditionary force, and served with my troops throughout the campaign, which ended with the capitulation of Pekin, October 6, 1360. The burning of the Summer Palace was decided upon at a council of war, held on the part of Eng-land by the Earl of Eigin as Ambassador, and the Commander-in-Chief, Lieutenant General Sir James Hope Grant, G. C. B., and the part of the French by Baron Gross, as Ambassador, and General Mantauban (now Count Palikao), Commander-in-Chief. By that council of war the inte of the Summer Paliace was decided, and the French troops had their portion allotted to destroy, equally with the English, which they carried out to the letter, as they did all operations which were assigned to them throughout that campaign. I may here remark that the burning of the Summer Palace was mainly due to the nor-rible barbarities committed by the Chinese on English officers, together with members of His Excellency Lord Eigin's staff who were some days previous made prisoners while under a flag of truce.

Of the whole party who went within the Chinese bassador, and General Mantauban (now Count

Of the whole party who went within the Chinese

Of the whole party who went within the Chinese lines Colonel Walker, C. B., Second Dragoon Gnards, serving on the staff of the cavalry, was the only one who escaped, and that was owing to his being so well mounted as well as being an experienced horseman and periect swordsmah, as, by aid of our glasses, we could see him cutting his way through the enemy, and, amid a cloud of dust, smoke and gingal buliets, presently cantered into the British lines.

The victims who were so tortured by the enemy were Mr. De Norman, chief attache to Lord Eigin, and Mr. Locke, his private secretary; Mr. Parkes, now Sir Harry Parkes, then Consul (English) at Canton; Mr. De Bulby, Times correspondent; Captain Brabazon, Royal Artillery; Lieutenant Anderson, First Sikh Irregular Cavalry; Private Phipps, First Dragoon Guards, and twenty Sowars of the Picst Sikh Irregular Cavalry, who comprised Mr. De Norman's escort.

They were all tortured to a death of the most brutal description, with the exception of Mr. Parkes and Mr. Locke, who were returned three weeks afterward in a irightful condition.

THE RED DEVILS RAIDING.

The Work of the Scalp Artists on the Texas Frontier.
Texas papers are in a state of alarm at the threatening attitude of the scalp raisers of the frontier. The New Orleans Times says that the latest news from Northwestern Texas, via Galveston, report the Indians, down from the Fort Sul reservation, in all directions, raiding in small parties, killing and scalping human beings, and carrying off or mutilating the frontiersmen's valuable stock. These reports come from Parker, Palo Pinto, Young, Stephens, Lambasas and Comanche counties. General Buell had sent scouting parties out in various directions. The citizens had had several lights with the Indians.

The Westnerford (Parker county) Times has the following from Fort Griffin:—"Forty Indians passed out near by Fort Griffin a few days ago in open daylight and General Buell followed them in a few hours. He had sent to Captain McAdams to accompany him on a scout in the direction of Fort Sill, but says now that the Indians are so thick near the post that he cannot go, and doubts whether he can keep them out of the fort."

The Galveston News of the 18th has the following, dated San Autonio 12th:—"The Indians are raiding carrying off or mutilating the irontiersmen's valua-dated San Antonio 12th:—"The indians are raidin into the towns below El Paso. On the 2d inst. the stole eleven horses and killed several men nei San Elizario. It is believed, that they came from the Fort Staunton, New Mexico, reservation."

THE BRESLAU SHOOTING AFFRAY.

The Coroner's inquest on the remains of William Muller, the Breslau brewer, who was shot and instantly killed on Sunday evening last by Andrew Kellerman, at the saloon of Nicholas Heil, was continued by Coroner Hamill at Nehring's Hotel yesterday. The large dining room of the hotel, in which the investigation was conducted, was crowded to suffocation. The prisoner, with his counsel and his wife and flaughter, occupied seats at the Corôner's table, and apparently took a lively interest in the proceedings. Dr. George W. Bell, of Farmingdale, testified to having viewed the remains of deceased at the request of the Coroner. He described the location and nature of the wounds. The wounds were sufficient to cause instant death. Nicolas Hell, the proprietor of the saloon in which the shooting occurred, was recalled He said:—The prisoner was at my house on Sunday last about eleven A. M.; he pointed the darts to my air gun; I never talked with him about his wife; prisoner's wife told me on Monday that he (Kellerman) would not nave gone away if he had not have had some trouble with me; the trouble was on account of the shooting. Several other witnesses who were in the saloon at the time of the shooting, and whose testimony was corroborative of the witnesses examined on Tuesday, all testifying that the prisoner was sober on the night of the shooting. The laquest will be resumed on Friday morning, at eight o'clock. The inneral of the murdered man took place yesterday morning, at nine o'clock, from his brewery, on Breslau avenue. The Rev. Joseph Roach, of the Evangelical St. John's church, officiated, preaching a short sermon. The remains were then taken to the Breslau Cemetery for interment, followed by the Schutzen Corps, the Arlon Singing Society and several hundred citizens on foot and in carriages. at the Coroner's table, and apparently took a FIRE ON STATEN ISLAND.

Early yesterday morning a fire broke out in the livery stable of Daniel Dempsey, on the Shore road, at Factoryville, near the steamboat dock. The flames communicated to his dwelling, adjointogether with two others, one of which was occupied by the Neptune Boat Club, by G. George Clark as a boot and shoe store and by Thomas Langton as a boot and shoe store and by Thomas Langton as a liquor saloon; the other being occupied by G. W. Thiey, boot and shoe store; by George French, butener, and by the office of the Richmond fron Ore Mining Company. George Clark's loss is $8,000: insured for $7,000. Daniel Dempsey's loss is $12,000; insured for $6,000. Thomas Langton's loss is $450; no insurance. Edward Biakeley's loss is $1,000 and George Black's, $1,500; partially insured. Mr. Thiey's loss is slight; The Neptune Boat Club lose $12,000; insured for $6,000. The Richmond Iron Ore Company's loss is slight; no insurance. Much of the furniture in the buildings was saved in a damaged condition.

FATAL RESULT OF AN ACCIDENT. A German printer, named Herman Edner, who fell out of the second story window, at his resi-dence, No. 47 Johnson street, Brooklyn, E. D., about a week ago, died from the effect of his injuries at the City Hospital yesterday. Deceased, a man of intemperate habits, was twenty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and child unprovided for. A LITTLE GIRL INJURED. Coroner Woltman was yesterday notified to take the ante-mortem statement of Hermine Scheible. a little girl eleven years of age, who is lying ill at No. 555 Ninth avenue. Some three weeks ago she was knocked down in the street by an unknown injuring her nead, which has resulted in inflammation of the brain.

ANOTHER GROSS POLICE OUTRAGE.

Brutal Clubbing of an Innocent Citison by Two Officers—Arrest of the Offenders. Ante-Mortem Statement.

Coroner Kessler was yesterday called to take the ante-mortem statement of Joseph Koliman, owner of the premises, 407 East Forty-sixth street, whe, as he alleges, was brutally clubbed and beaten in as he alleges, was brutally clubbed and beaten in his house without provocation by Patrolmen Hugh Fitzpatrick and John C. Foubey, of the Nineteenth precinct. There was a noise made by some of the occupants of the house, and the officers, suspected of being partially inebriated, wenf in, came in collision with Mr. Kollman, and, besides clubbing him, beat and kicked his wife. Below will be found Kollman's ANTE MORTEM STATEMENT.

ANTE MORTEM STATEMENT.

About seven o'clock P. M. yesterday, while I was taking my supper, I heard a noise proceeding from the hall I weat outside and saw two policemen who were quite boisterous and seemed to be intoxicated, I requested them pointely to keep quiet, as I deemed it to be my duty to preserve order in my own house; but they said they had a right to do as they pleased and threatened to arrest me too. I declared my willingness to follow them; but as I was going into my room to put on my coat and hat they followed me, setzed me violently and began to push and beat me most severely. I fainted away, fell on the floor, and while in that condition was dragged out of the room and into the street. I screamed for help and was perfectly poweriess, but they kept on beating me and took me at last to the station house. When I arrived there the Police Surgeon was called and bandared my wounds. The blood was flowing in a stream over my floor and saturated all my clothes. As the officers could not prefer a charge against me the Captain discharged me at once and I went home and to bed. I had a severe lever all night and this merning I sent for a doctor, who prescribed something for me, saying he would call again in the alternoon. I leel very bad. My wounds on the head pain severely, and I leel also internal pains, especially on the left side in the region of my heart. The officer who clubbed me so severely I recognize as Hugh Fitzpatrick. The name of tha officer who was with him and beat me also I do not know. My wile was also soverely beaten and kicked by the officers.

On the above statement the jury rendered a verdict against the officer and Coroner Kessler ordered them to be placed under arrest, which was done by Captain Gunner. The accused officials will be brought before the Coroner to-day.

PIGEON SHOOTING.

Match for $300 Between "Jersey Boys" John Ryan, of Englewood, Vs. John H. Outwater, of Moonochey-A Close Contest-Outwater the Winner.

For a week or more the pigeon shooting fra ternity of New Jersey have been greatly exercise in the matter of the match made between Mr. John Ryan, of Englewood, and Mr. John H. Outwa ter, of Moonochey, that State. They had before met at Secaucus, where Outwater, who is still a youth, polished off his antagonist in such true sportsman's style that the latter felt much an noyed and resolved to "pick his flint and try again." So the two Johns agreed to meet yester day at Decrioot Driving Park and there shoot at 21 birds each, under the Long Island rules, calling for 21 yards rise, 80 yards boundary and 1% oz. shot, for $300. Each was to "find, trap and handle" for the other. 'Over in Bergen county, in the unmediate vicinity of where the principality, there has been much betting, the odds slightly and nandle" for the other. Over in Bergen county, in the immediate vicinity of where the principals live, there has been much betting, the odds signify in myor of Ryan, as it had become noised abroad that Miles Johnson would attend to the latter's labor in finding and trapping the birds. Such indeed was the case, and Miles did his part of the work to perfection; but young Outwater astonished the natives with his shooting and successfully overcame all obstacles.

About 100 gentlemen were on the grounds at the appointed hour and without delay the shooting commenced. Mr. Isaac Tranx was selected judge for Outwater and Miles Johnson for Ryan. M. A. Van Valdenburgh, of Newark, acted as referee. Ryan went first to the trap, sand, at the flifth bird, both shooters had each missed two; at the tenth, each had lost four birds; then Ryan killed eight in succession and Outwater seven, letting the twenth bird escape. It is only fair to state that at the beginning of the shooting Outwater was persuaded to try a strange gun on the representation of a friend, but he soon discovered his missed his nineteenth bird, when Outwater killing his there was a tie, which caused considerable excitement. Ryan also missed his twenty-first bird, when those who knew the abilities of Outwater were very sanguine that he would kill his last. He hit it hard, and it fell ten yards from the trap, but got up and, circling around the Judges' stand, dropped dead in the middle of the track. Ryan and his party disputed the right of the referee to measure from where the bird field, out pointed two measure from where the bird field, out pointed two measure from where the bird field, out pointed two measures from where the bird in addition, where the some imagnary spot where, he said, the board had gone "in making the circle." Mr. Vanvalkenourgh first measured from the dead bird and iound that he was in bounds, and then measured in another direction, where the Ryan party said the bird had been. After an animated discussion the judges concluded to call it

"VIVE LA COMMUNE!"

Banquet and Ball by the French Communists Last Evening.

About 400 men and women, sympathizers of the Paristan Commune, assembled last evening at Germania Hall, in the Bowery. The proceedings commenced at nine o'clock by a banquet, where wine and French gayety flowed galore. The buttonholes of nearly all the men were ornamented with a red ribbon, and the women wore the same color in some portion of their dress.

The enthusiasm of the meeting was at its height

The enthusiasm of the meeting was at its neight when Mr. Sauva, the President of the meeting, announced after the banquet that there were two honorary presidents of their gathering whose names, he thought, were worthy of all honor for their wondrous patriotism—he alladed to that brave heroine, among others of the Commune, Louise Michel, who fought like a hon, and the single hearted Dr. Raspall, now in prison. The mention of their names was received with dealening cheers. Mr. Sauvathen told, in forcible terms, the story of the struggle of the Commune for liberty, how they had lought against terrific odds and had been beaten. He stigmatized the petty and miserable conduct of the Thiers government and its wholesale and cold blooded massacre of Communists on the plain of Sartory. He thought that MacMahon was a ruler of the sword, and a would-be Moitke, without the brains of the German military commander. Dr. Parisei spoke on the incidents of the Commune Mr. Sarges, from the International Council of Workmen, told of the brave men and women of the Commune. Other speeches to the same effect were delivered by Dr. Kinger, of the Committee of Safety of New York. Eli May alluded to the revolutionary uprisings of 1832, 1852 and 1871, in France. Mr. Karl spoke on behalf of the Unity of workmen throughout the world.
